

This is how coffee and singing changed my life:

Three years ago, I started singing while I made my daily coffee.

Sharing such a simple part of my day impacted my life more than I could imagine, and that's why I'm forever grateful for my love for Starbucks coffee and singing.

[takes a sip]

Mmm that's good.