

We're going to whip up a strawberry bold foam latte.

Let's go.

Summery and warm and gorge(ous) up here at the cottage.

I was in the mood to switch it up for something more summery for my morning coffee;

We are going to start with the Starbucks Espresso Americano in the Black Unsweet.

This is super rich – smooth - bold.

You're going to add in some strawberry syrup into our milk.

I'm going to add in a touch of vanilla syrup just to give it an extra bit of sweet.

We're going to give that a quick stir.

Froth.

Pour this right on top of our Espresso Americano.

Ooh, can you even?

Taste test time.

Ok, this is unreal. You have to save this for your next summer coffee treat.
